

Travellers Autobarn launches brand new 2013 2-berth campervan rental models

Travellers Autobarn is launching brand new 2013 2-berth campervan rental models - the newest of its kind in the Australian budget market.

Travellers Autobarn is proud to announce another product launch - its newest Chubby Camper models - 2013 models with zero kilometers - which will be launched in November 2013. The initial Chubby Campers - 2007/08 models - have been a great hit with customers as well as agencies due to their space as well as functionality compared to some of the other brands in the market. This was supported by funky designs!

Peter Burke, owner of Travellers Autobarn, stated "The new Chubby Campers allow us to offer the newest 2-berth van hire models in the market, which will see a great buzz among our agencies & our clientele. Compared to our previous models we have refined the new Chubby Campers to meet the demand of the market even further. Being brand new it also allows us to attract customers who are not the traditional backpacker!"

The new Chubby Camper will feature a tropical ice box rather than an esky, which will keep the ice much colder and last longer. With customers looking more and more for cheaper options, it is a great step to avoid paying for powered camp sites (to recharge a small fridge) which will outweigh the cost of a bag of ice easily. It also features funky internal LED lights and lots of space for storage. Just like the previous van hire models they come with power plugs to allow any customer to recharge their electrical appliances.

The new campervans will be very affordable for backpackers as well as "budget" travellers with an average increase of only 5 to 10% compared to the previous models!

Travellers Autobarn has planned an initial launch of 50 new Chubby Campers, with plans to increase the fleet in 2014.
